Syracuse Tommy Ryan is now in Chicago after a sojourn at West Bilden. Ryan states that he took on several pounds while at the Indiana resort and weighed, in his street clothes, an even 183 pounds on the same scales he used when he passed through the city little more than two weeks ago. On that occasion he weighed 135 pounds in his street country.

He is quoted as follows concerning his weight:

CHRISTIE WILLIAMS KNOCKED OUT.

"Battling" Nelson Seemed to Be Defeated When He Landed Ef-fective Blow.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.
Hot Springs. Ark., Dec. 25.—"Battling" Nelson knocked out Christie Williams of Memphis to-night before the Whittington Athletic Club in the seventeenth round of a hot battle in which it seemed that the victor had no chance to win.

Coming up in the beginning of the seventeenth round, he managed to get to Mitchell's solar pickus and dazed him for a moment. Taking accautage of that blow, he landed a right swing to the jaw, and Mitchell went down. Mitchell responded just before being called out, but another right sent him over the ropes.

"Parson" Davies has issued a challenge to Nelson in behalf of Kid Broad, and they will meet here January 29.

MIDNEY AND BLADDER troubles, backnohe, headache, sediment in urine, difficult, painful or frequent urination cured quickly and permanently.

PILES and all rectal diseases cured without surgery by painless modern methods. No detention from business. Hours—5 a. m. to 8 p. m.; Sundays, J to 12

Toy will probably go to work in the Business Men's Gymnasium when he arrives.

In the Feltz-Devine bout at Philadelphia last Monday evening, Jimmy Devine gave a striking exhibition of gameness by fighting four and one-half rounds with a dislocated shoulder. Devine threw his arm out of joint in the first round, but continued to fight until the referee stopped the affair. The arm was so swollen at the middle of the last round that Devine was unable to false it at all.

Feltz, in consequence, was putting it all

Feitz, in consequence, was putting it all over him at the end and Referee Rocap stepped between the men and stopped the affair. No decision was rendered, of course, but Feltz had the better of the go throughout. Tommy has fought in good form of late and a letter from his manager states that he is in much better trim than when he last appeared in the city.

Fitzsimmons and Jeffries may appear in this city some time next mount, the idea of putting them on for an exhibition at the West End Club having been suggested by the management of that institution. It is believed that the heavy weight will draw well, if sent on in an informal six-round go, and the experiment will probably be tried the latter part of January.

Of course, such as hout would be merely a sparring exhibition, but it is thought that many sport lovers would like to see the big fellows in action. The puglisits are in Montana just at present, but word was received from their representatives that they would come on if similent inducement was offered. In any event Williams's action in assuming control of racing in Canifornia seems droll to Easterners. One can imagine what would happen if President Tilles of the Pair Association attempted to forbid a race track in Kansas City from running.

Father Bill Daly, the man who made Garrison, Maner. O'Connor. Gann and many other crack jockeys, is now testining Dionysius Pairy, the son of a rich Vienna lawyer, to ride race horses in competition. When Fred Tarai was in Hungary ast year Pairy's father toid him that he wanted his son to become a great jockey, and asked to whom he should be sent to learn.

"Old Bill' Daly of Gravesend, N. Y., U. S. A." said Taral. So the boy was sent to Daly. Bill's method of training riders is the natural one of the survival of the fittest. If a boy can survive coid, hear, riscorous diet, hard work, much larruping with a balestick and kicking with a wooden leghe may become a good jockey. They tell a tale of a boy who was exercising for Daly being thrown against the fence and having his leg broken. Though the shin bone protraded, Daly sharply reproved the lad for whimpering while the doctors treated the injury.

"Yare nat same, me phoy" said Bill. Father Bill Daly, the man who made Gar-

So far nothing has been heard of Felix Carr, who once rode and then trained for Barney Schreiber and who disappeared at the close of the last New Orleans meeting. Felix managed a string for Mr. Schreiber at the Creecent City track. As the boy made Schreiber rich in 1822 to 1894, the "Dutchman" forgave his fall from grace, but shame evidently keeps Carr in hiding.

but shame evidently keeps Carr in hiding. Bullman cannot successfully ride a distance over six or seven furiongs. Californians say that he threw away the Christmas Handleap for Articulate. The St. Andrews horse carried 125, top weight. His trainer told "Bull" to go slow with him and not be better than third for the first seven furiongs. Bullman cut out the first half in the interest of the last season, landed two events in California at 20 to 1 or better last week. One was a flat kind of a horse some four years ago and could beat a field of dogs now and then last season. Berby on Heho last June.

Promoters of race tracks who complained of the autocracy of the Western Jockey Club in refusing them dates to race in towns which already had many other tracks will find food for reflection in the action of T. H. Williams, owner of the Tanforan, Ingleside and Oakhand tracks of San Francisco. Williams's three tracks ace some 30 days each year, or from November 1 to June 1, Esproximately. They have been racing that long for many years.

New Orieans newspapers say that Charley Ellison had Jockey Redfern out riding. His friendship with jockeys made Ellison rich. He got his start when he was hob-nobbing with Burns, Piggott, Thorpe and Jenkins at the Fair Grounds some six years ago. If he gets Redfern, Buchanan and Gannon to pai with him at New Orieans he is liable to keep on getting rich. The good jockeys can give him lots of valuable information.

New York, Dec. 26.—Hot on the trail of Miner Jack Munroe, who gained a decision over Champion Jim Jeffries in Butte, Mont, last Saturday night, is every heavy-weight puglist of the past or present.

Right on the heels of Tom Sharkey's challenge comes Kid McCoy, who, like the Sallor, emerges from retirement to hurl a challenge at the man who successfully stood off the champion for four grueling rounds.

It is very likely that Munroe will give him a chance to prove it. McCoy will take him on at each of the cup yacht at the Herreshoff shops, there are sufficient facts known to indicate that "Nat" Herreshoff shops, there are sufficient facts known to indicate that "Nat" Herreshoff has no fears of defeat from the challenger on the stocks (Charley Horan, who manages Joe Bernstein, the little fighter, has wired the big fellow to come, offering to pay his expenses, and through his manager, George Grant, that he is willing to mack Munroe or any other nighter," seld Grant. East St. Louis in the old days, organized a jockey club at Los Angeles, some 40 miles from San Francisco. Los Angeles, some 40 miles from San Francisco. Los Angeles is a superior place for winter racing, climate counsdered. There is not any organized turf government in California. The tracks there have been a law unto themselves. So Brooks thought that all he had to do was to go ahead and race. Williams, the owner of the San Francisco tracks, at once claimed intisalight on over all racing on the Pacific For weeks past the mechanics have been nominated by T. J. McInerney of Merced, won the big open plains coursing stake run at Fresno, Cal., last week. The California papers do not give the dog's breeding. He was led several times going through the stake and got two accidental byes.

In a letter to his friend Captain D. J. O'Caliaghan of St. Louis, John Grace of San Francisco, who judged the meeting, says that in his twenty-five years of riding to greyhounds he never saw such coursing. The plains were absolutely level, weather splendid, dogs in fine condition and hares that were perfect demons. Only eleven hares were killed in fifty courses.

Aeolus and Roman Athlete—the latter winner of the Waterloo Cup—sustained very hard courses. Aeolus ran a six-minute course. After winning his course Roman Athlete pursued no less than three stray hares before his handler could take him up. The absence of the "Telief dog" did not seem to spoil the sport in any way; that is, as a sport. Several hares displayed a clean pair of heels to their pursuers on the open prairie.

The clider dogs showed lack of dash, fire and perseverance. Many weeks of hard running in parks had taken the edge off them.

The clider dogs showed lack of dash, fire and perseverance. Many weeks of hard running in parks had taken the edge off them. Hence the untried pupples did the best work. The older dogs generally led, but they gave up after the unbroken hare eluded them for a few turns. Then the eager and dashing puppy got in and wiped out the score made by the blase old-timer. This tired feeling brought about by much coursing was shown by Sacramento Bey, when Northern Express beat him in the Waterloo. Boy led and scored 6 points, then eased up and the eager puppy won.

Few of the real cracks were entered. Sacramento Boy, Black Coon and other good ones were missing.

LONG WON SKATING MEDAL.

Captured Final Heat of sile Cham-pionship Event at the Ice Palace. Jimmy Long won the medal representing the skating championship at one mile last evening, defeating a fast field, at the Ice Palace, and winning in the closest kind of a finish from Bert Kilgen. So close together were the men as they crossed the line that it looked like a dead heat, but the judge decided Long had won by a narrow margin.

The event was the final heat of the skating contests that have been in progress for the last week at the Palace. Competitors the last week at the Palace. Competitors who had qualified in the previous heats started, a field of six of the fastest men in the city appearing. Long took the lead and heid it throughout, with Kilgen second and Bodine third. The time was 3:33.

On account of the snarp turns necessary at the corners, considerable fouling was apparent in the course of the race. Frank Pears was starter and referee. Pears was starter and referee,
